COIN QUALITIES

Proof
Proof coins are made from highly polished planchets and dies and are struck more than once to accent the design. Proof coins receive the highest quality strike possible and can be distinguished by their mirror-like background and frosted foreground.

Uncirculated
Uncirculated coins are manufactured using the same process as circulating coins but with quality enhancements such as high coining force and early strikes from dies (American Eagle Silver Uncirculated Coins and uncirculated commemorative coins are struck on specially burnished planchets and feature a matte, or satin-like finish.)

Circulating
Circulating coins are the same type of coins you would find in everyday commerce; however, most of the circulating coins contained in United States Mint products such as bags and rolls have never been touched by human hands.

This year the United States commemorates the establishment of the U.S. Army with these gold, silver and clad coins in both proof and uncirculated qualities. The coins honor the American soldier of both yesterday and today, in wartime and in peace, and commemorate the traditions, history and heritage of the U.S. Army and its role in American society. Each is a great gift for anyone who served or still serves in the U.S. Army, or for those interested in its 236-year history.

Surcharges from the sale of each coin are authorized to be paid to the Army Historical Foundation to help finance the National Museum of the United States Army. These coins will not be available for sale after December 16, 2011, so place your order soon.

2011 SEPTEMBER 11 NATIONAL MEDAL

Obverse

Reverse

The 2011 September 11 National Medal honors those who lost their lives, those who risked their lives to save others on September 11, 2001, and the endurance, resilience and hope of those who survived. The obverse of this silver medal features Lady Liberty holding the Lamp of Remembrance, with beacons of light stretching skyward behind her. Liberty, the lamp and the light symbolize not just the immeasurable loss on that fateful day, but also the resiliency and triumph of those who persevered. The reverse depicts an eagle, symbolizing the strength of the survivors, families and Nation. The backdrop of cascading water is emblematic of peace, serenity, healing and the continuity of life. This medal is struck in proof quality at both the United States Mint facilities at West Point and Philadelphia.

2011 MEDAL OF HONOR COMMEMORATIVE COINS

The Medal of Honor is the highest military decoration awarded by the U.S. government. The extraordinary individuals who earn the medal risked their lives above and beyond the call of duty. These coins commemorate the establishment of this prestigious honor. The obverse (heads) of the silver dollar features the current Medals of Honor for the U.S. Army, Navy and Air Force, while the obverse of the gold coin depicts the original U.S. Navy award authorized by Congress in 1861. The gold reverse (tails) design features Minerva standing with a shield representing the Army and the Navy in her right hand and the Union flag in her left hand. The silver reverse depicts a contemporary infantry soldier carrying a wounded soldier to safety under enemy fire.
